MANUFACTURING & ENGINEERING

Practical and essential

Manufacturing and engineering turns your thoughts into skills - welding, shaping, and creating metal works that are useful and generally essential.

Make it yourself

You know your an M & E kind of person when you just want to make that thing yourself and gain satisfaction from that alone.

Part of something big

From intricate repair jobs through to large mining projects, marine fabrication and high tech machined components, Manufacturing and Engineering is part of something big!

In demand

Engineering skills are in demand and are a great foundation for a wide range of technical careers.
